

Briefs

New gymnasium roof at Chemawa Indian School in Oregon.

Chemawa Begins Roofing Effort for Gymnasium and Pool

A major roofing improvement project at Chemawa Indian School in Oregon began last year with the gymnasium roof, which was stripped down to the sheet metal and then replaced. Roof slopes and channels were rebuilt to force rainwater toward the roof drains. The roof has a 25-year warranty. This year, the school’s pool roof will be replaced.

A modular building is moved from Bread Springs Day School to Zuni Pueblo, both in New Mexico.
Video: Tour Bread Springs Day School.

Zuni Pueblo Law Enforcement Goes Modular

With a new replacement school constructed at Bread Springs Day School in New Mexico, OFMC moved two modular buildings to nearby Zuni Pueblo to serve as office and dispatch space for Zuni Pueblo Law Enforcement, which had been sharing space with the Pueblo’s Emergency Medical Services. OFMC intends to transfer ownership of the modulares to the tribe.

Remodeled bathrooms enliven the Plains Indian Museum in Browning, Mont. Video: See the improvements at the Museum.

OFMC Improves Plains Indian Museum Facilities

Using Minor Improvement and Repair (MI&R) funds, OFMC contracted with the Blackfeet Tribe through Pub. L. 93-638 to make improvements at the Plains Indian Museum in Browning, Mont. The Museum is operated by DOI’s Indian Arts and Crafts Board. Bathrooms were remodeled, handicapped accessibility was improved, and energy-efficient windows were installed.